Contact

1-800-338-1192
212-730-7007

2600 122 East 42nd Street, Suite

About

In This Issue:

• AP Economics Teacher Bundle
• CEE Annual Conference Begins Tomorrow
• Gen i Revolution is currently being used by key economics educators across the U.S.

In This Issue:

• CEE Annual Conference Begins Tomorrow
• Gen i Revolution is currently being used by key economics educators across the U.S.

Content

Visit online:

• Economics
• Resources
• About

Our networks

LinkedIn
Facebook
Twitter

This Day in History

October 1, 1915

AG - First Farm Credit Bank

The day when the Federal Farm Credit System was established by the Federal Farm Credit Act of 1916, which was signed by President Woodrow Wilson. The system was created to provide a stable and reliable source of credit for farmers. It was the first time the government had directly entered the agricultural credit market. The Federal Farm Credit Bank System is a network of 25 Federal Farm Credit Banks and 658 Federal Credit Unions that provide credit to farmers and ranchers across the United States.

October 1, 1915

JD - First Federal Reserve Bank

The day when the first Federal Reserve Bank, the New York Federal Reserve Bank, was established. The Federal Reserve System was created in 1913 to provide a central banking system for the United States. The Federal Reserve Banks are the operating arms of the Federal Reserve System and are responsible for implementing monetary policy, regulating banks, and providing financial services to the public. The New York Federal Reserve Bank is the oldest and largest of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks and is responsible for overseeing the financial stability of the nation's banking system.

October 2, 2013

President Barack Obama announce the latest round of sanctions targeting Russia and its allies in response to their actions in Ukraine and Syria. The sanctions include asset freezes and travel bans on key Russian officials, businesses, and organizations that support the Russian government. The sanctions are intended to increase pressure on Russia to end its support for separatists in eastern Ukraine and to stop its aggression in Syria.

October 3, 2013

CEE Annual Conference Begins Tomorrow

Over 500 educators, industry thought-leaders and Federal Reserve partners from around the country are expected to attend the conference. Participants will come together to address the most important issues, trends and challenges in financial and economic education. The event is made possible by the generous support of Goldman Sachs (Gold Sponsors), Discover, J.P. Morgan (Silver Sponsors), and the Maryland Council on Economic Education (Silent Sponsor). The conference will feature expert speakers, interactive workshops, and hands-on activities designed to help educators and industry thought-leaders work together to improve financial and economic education in the classroom.

CEE Virtual Conference Begins Tomorrow

The Second Annual Financial Literacy and Economic Education Conference in Baltimor...